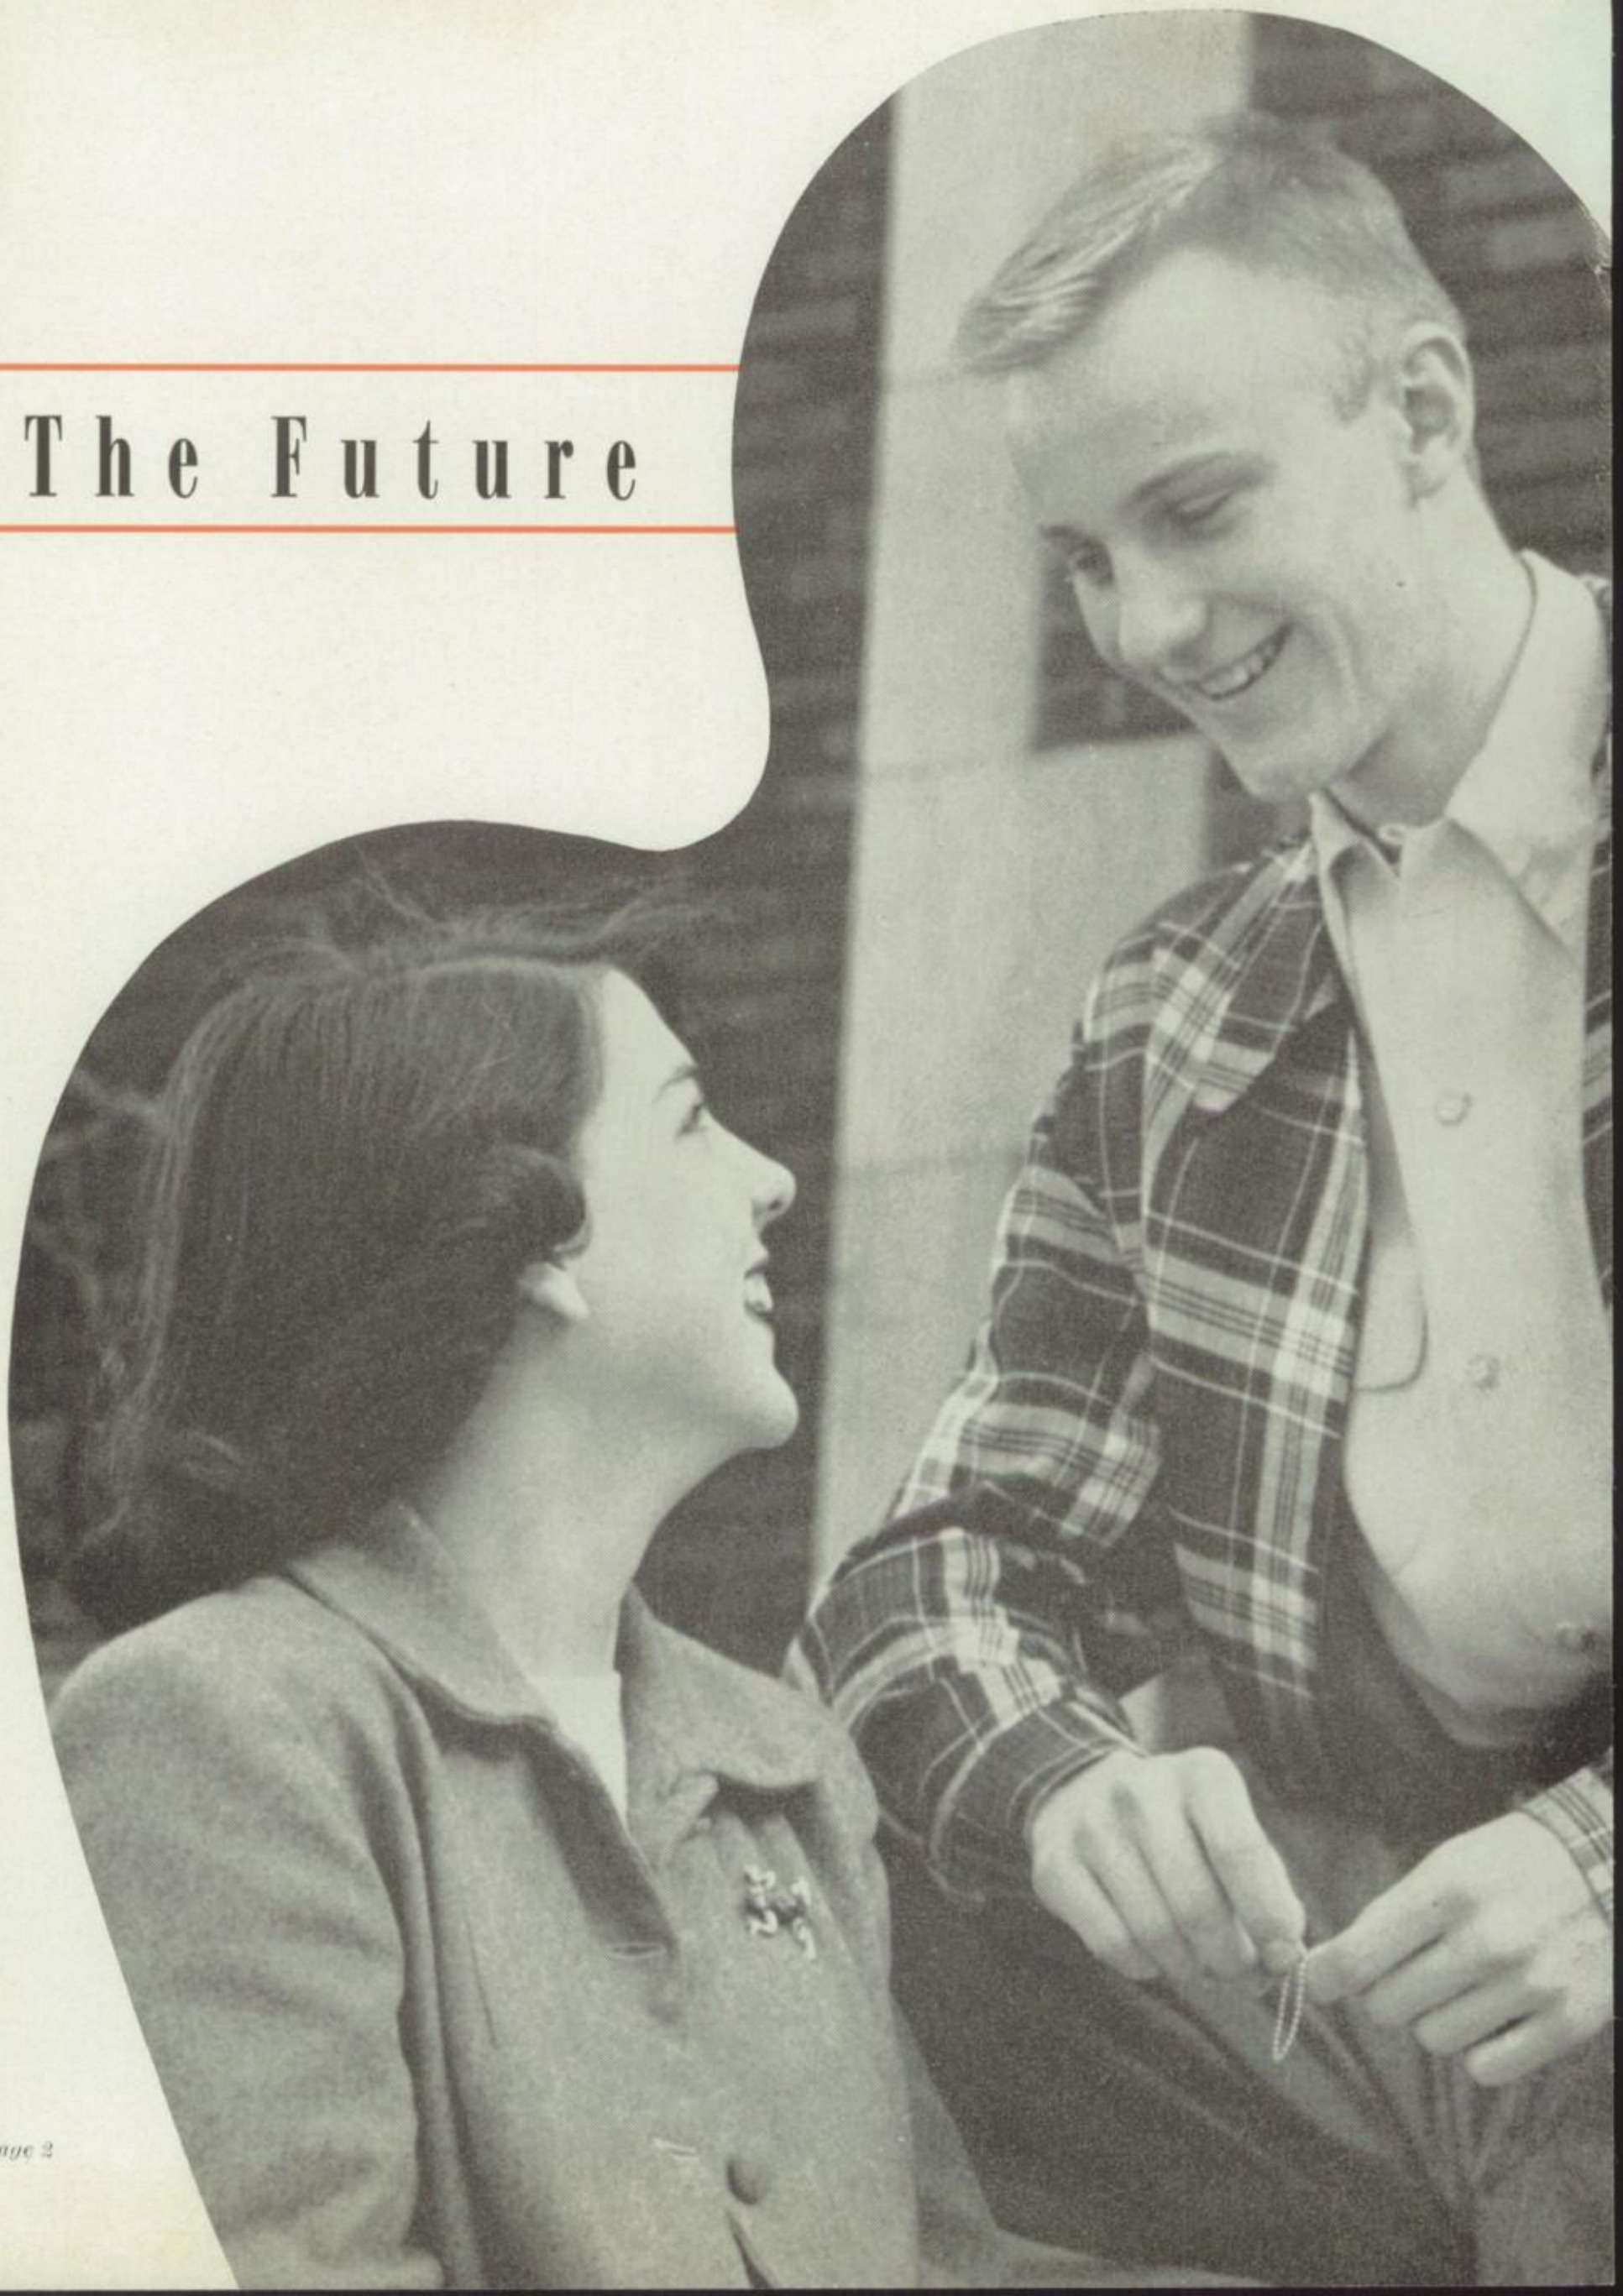
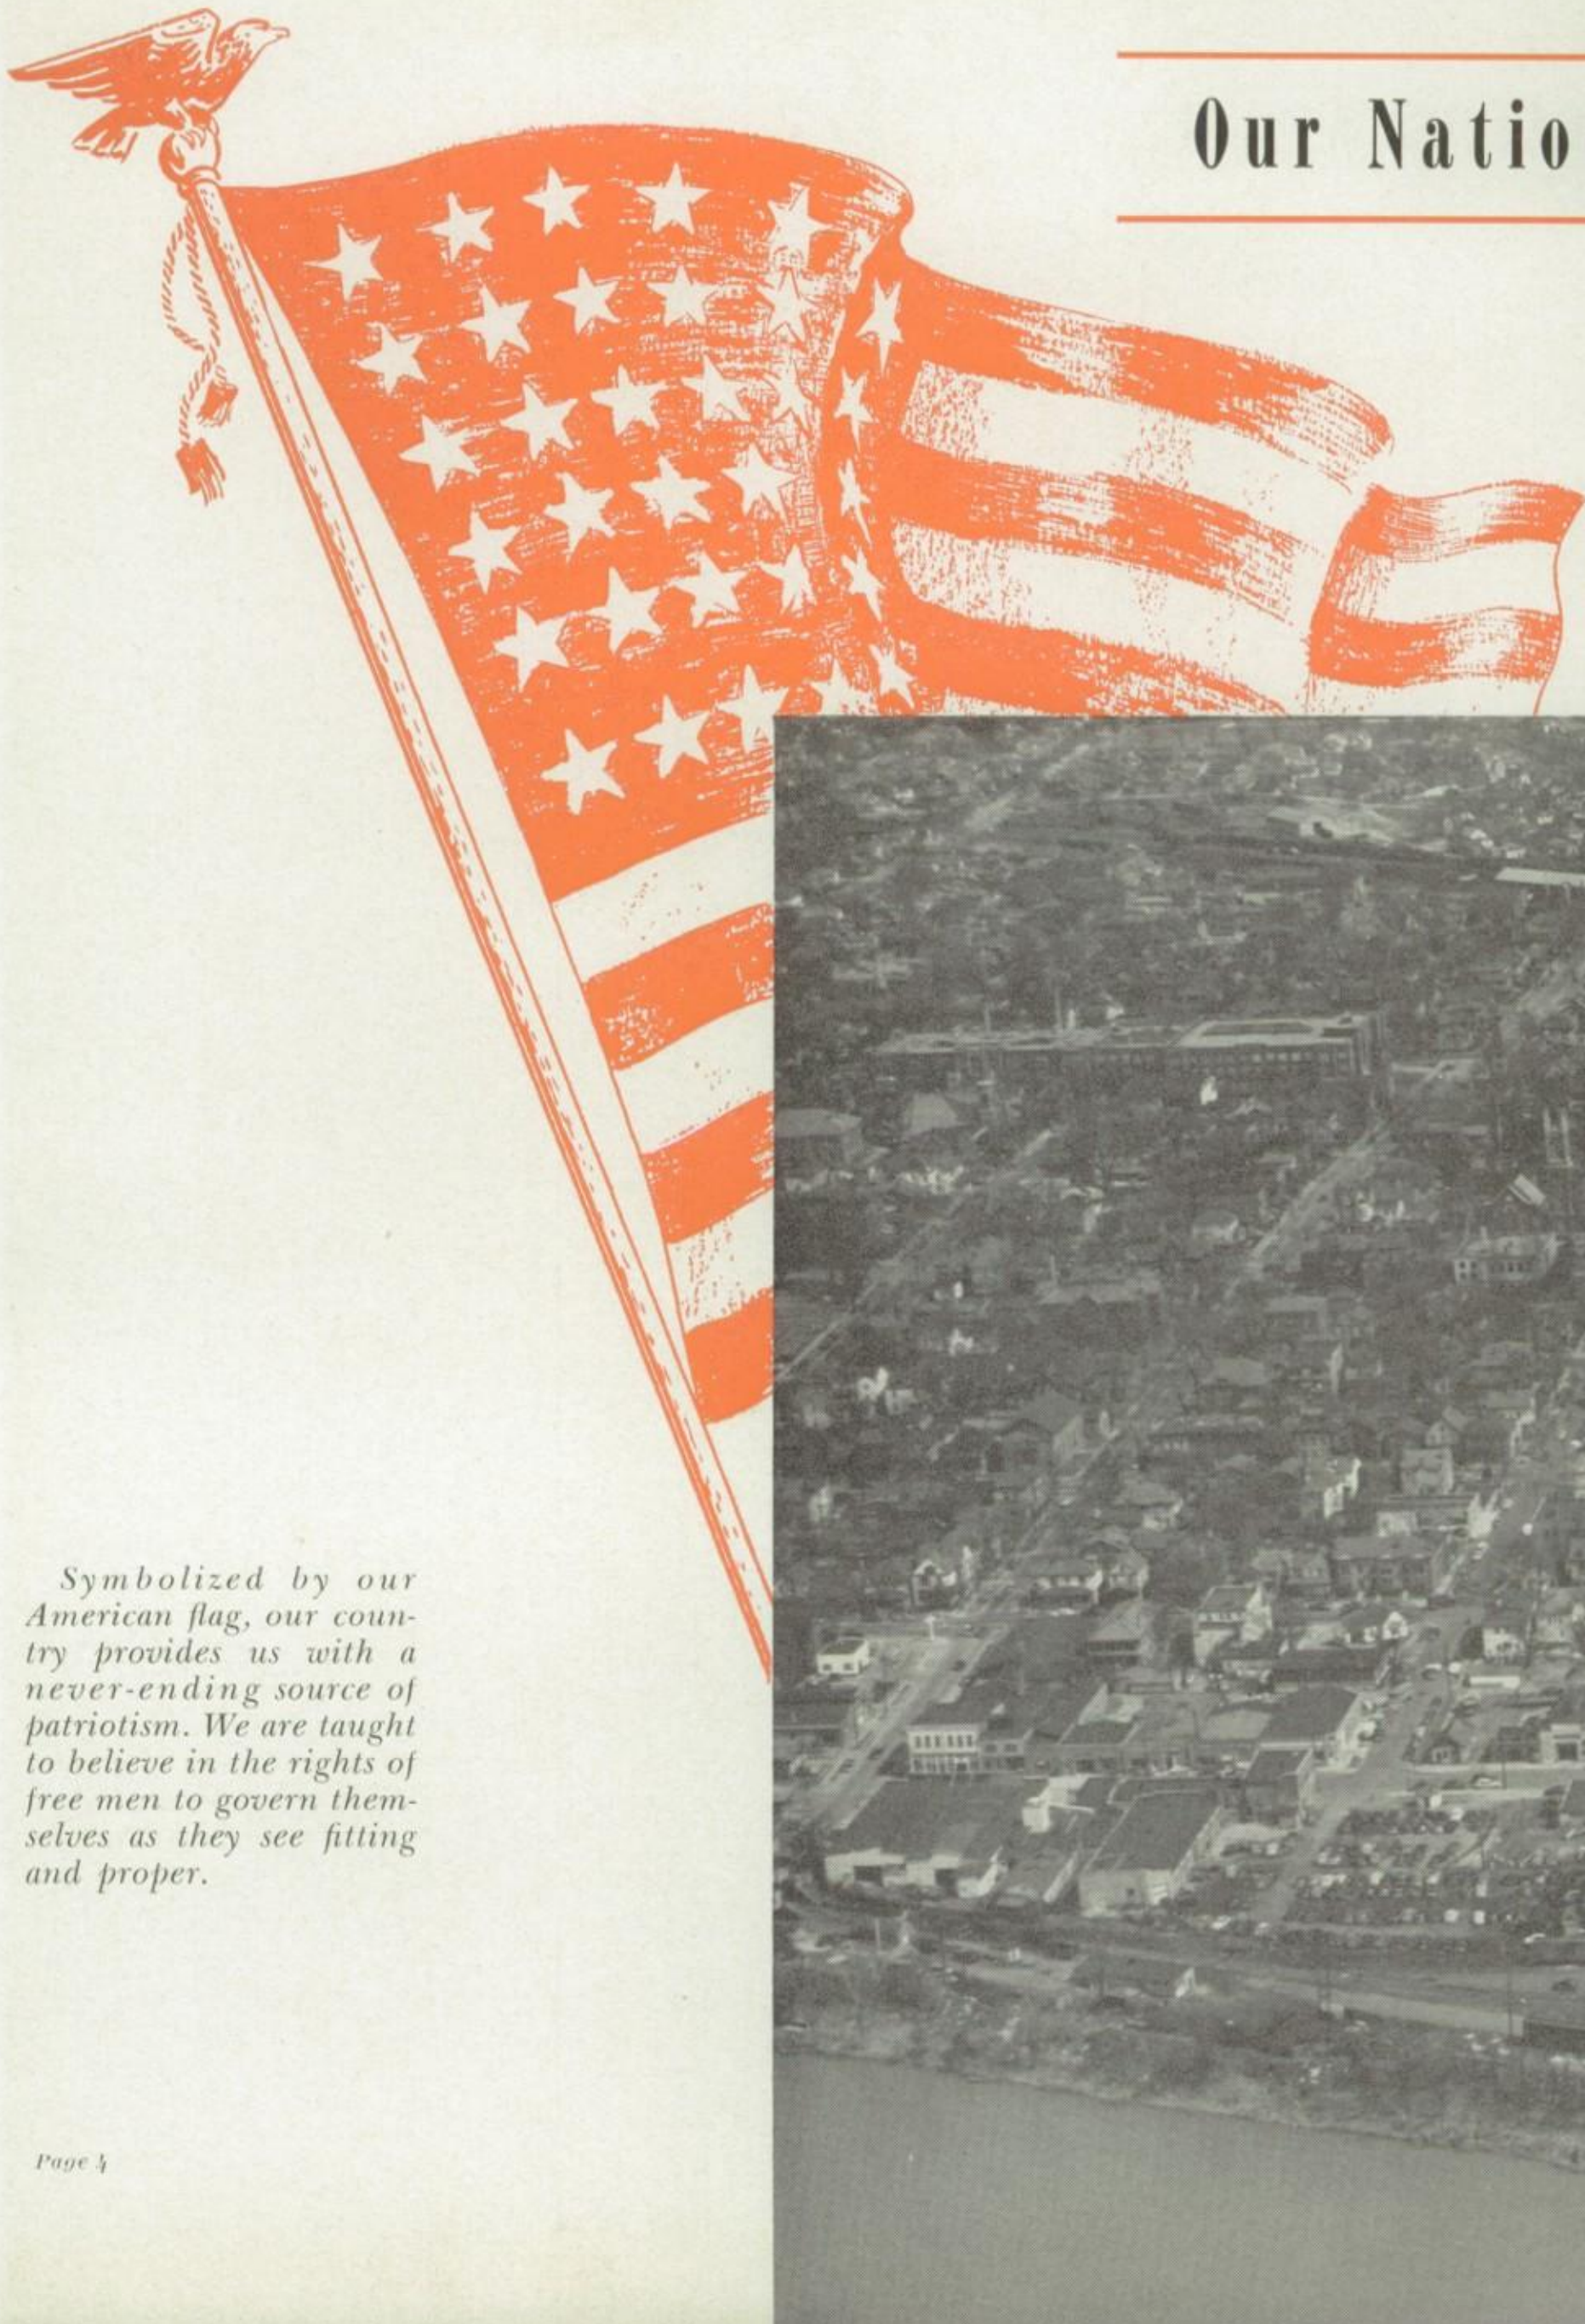
The Future



Belongs To Us

And the future looks to us—to achieve success. "The road to success," they say, "is long and rocky. There are many blind alleys where one can be led astray." But we at Jeff are well prepared for the journey. Behind us are the years which taught us patriotism, industry, co-operation, idealism, and friendship. Our school, homes, and churches will point the way. In the following pages you may see how we are prepared for the future in '52.

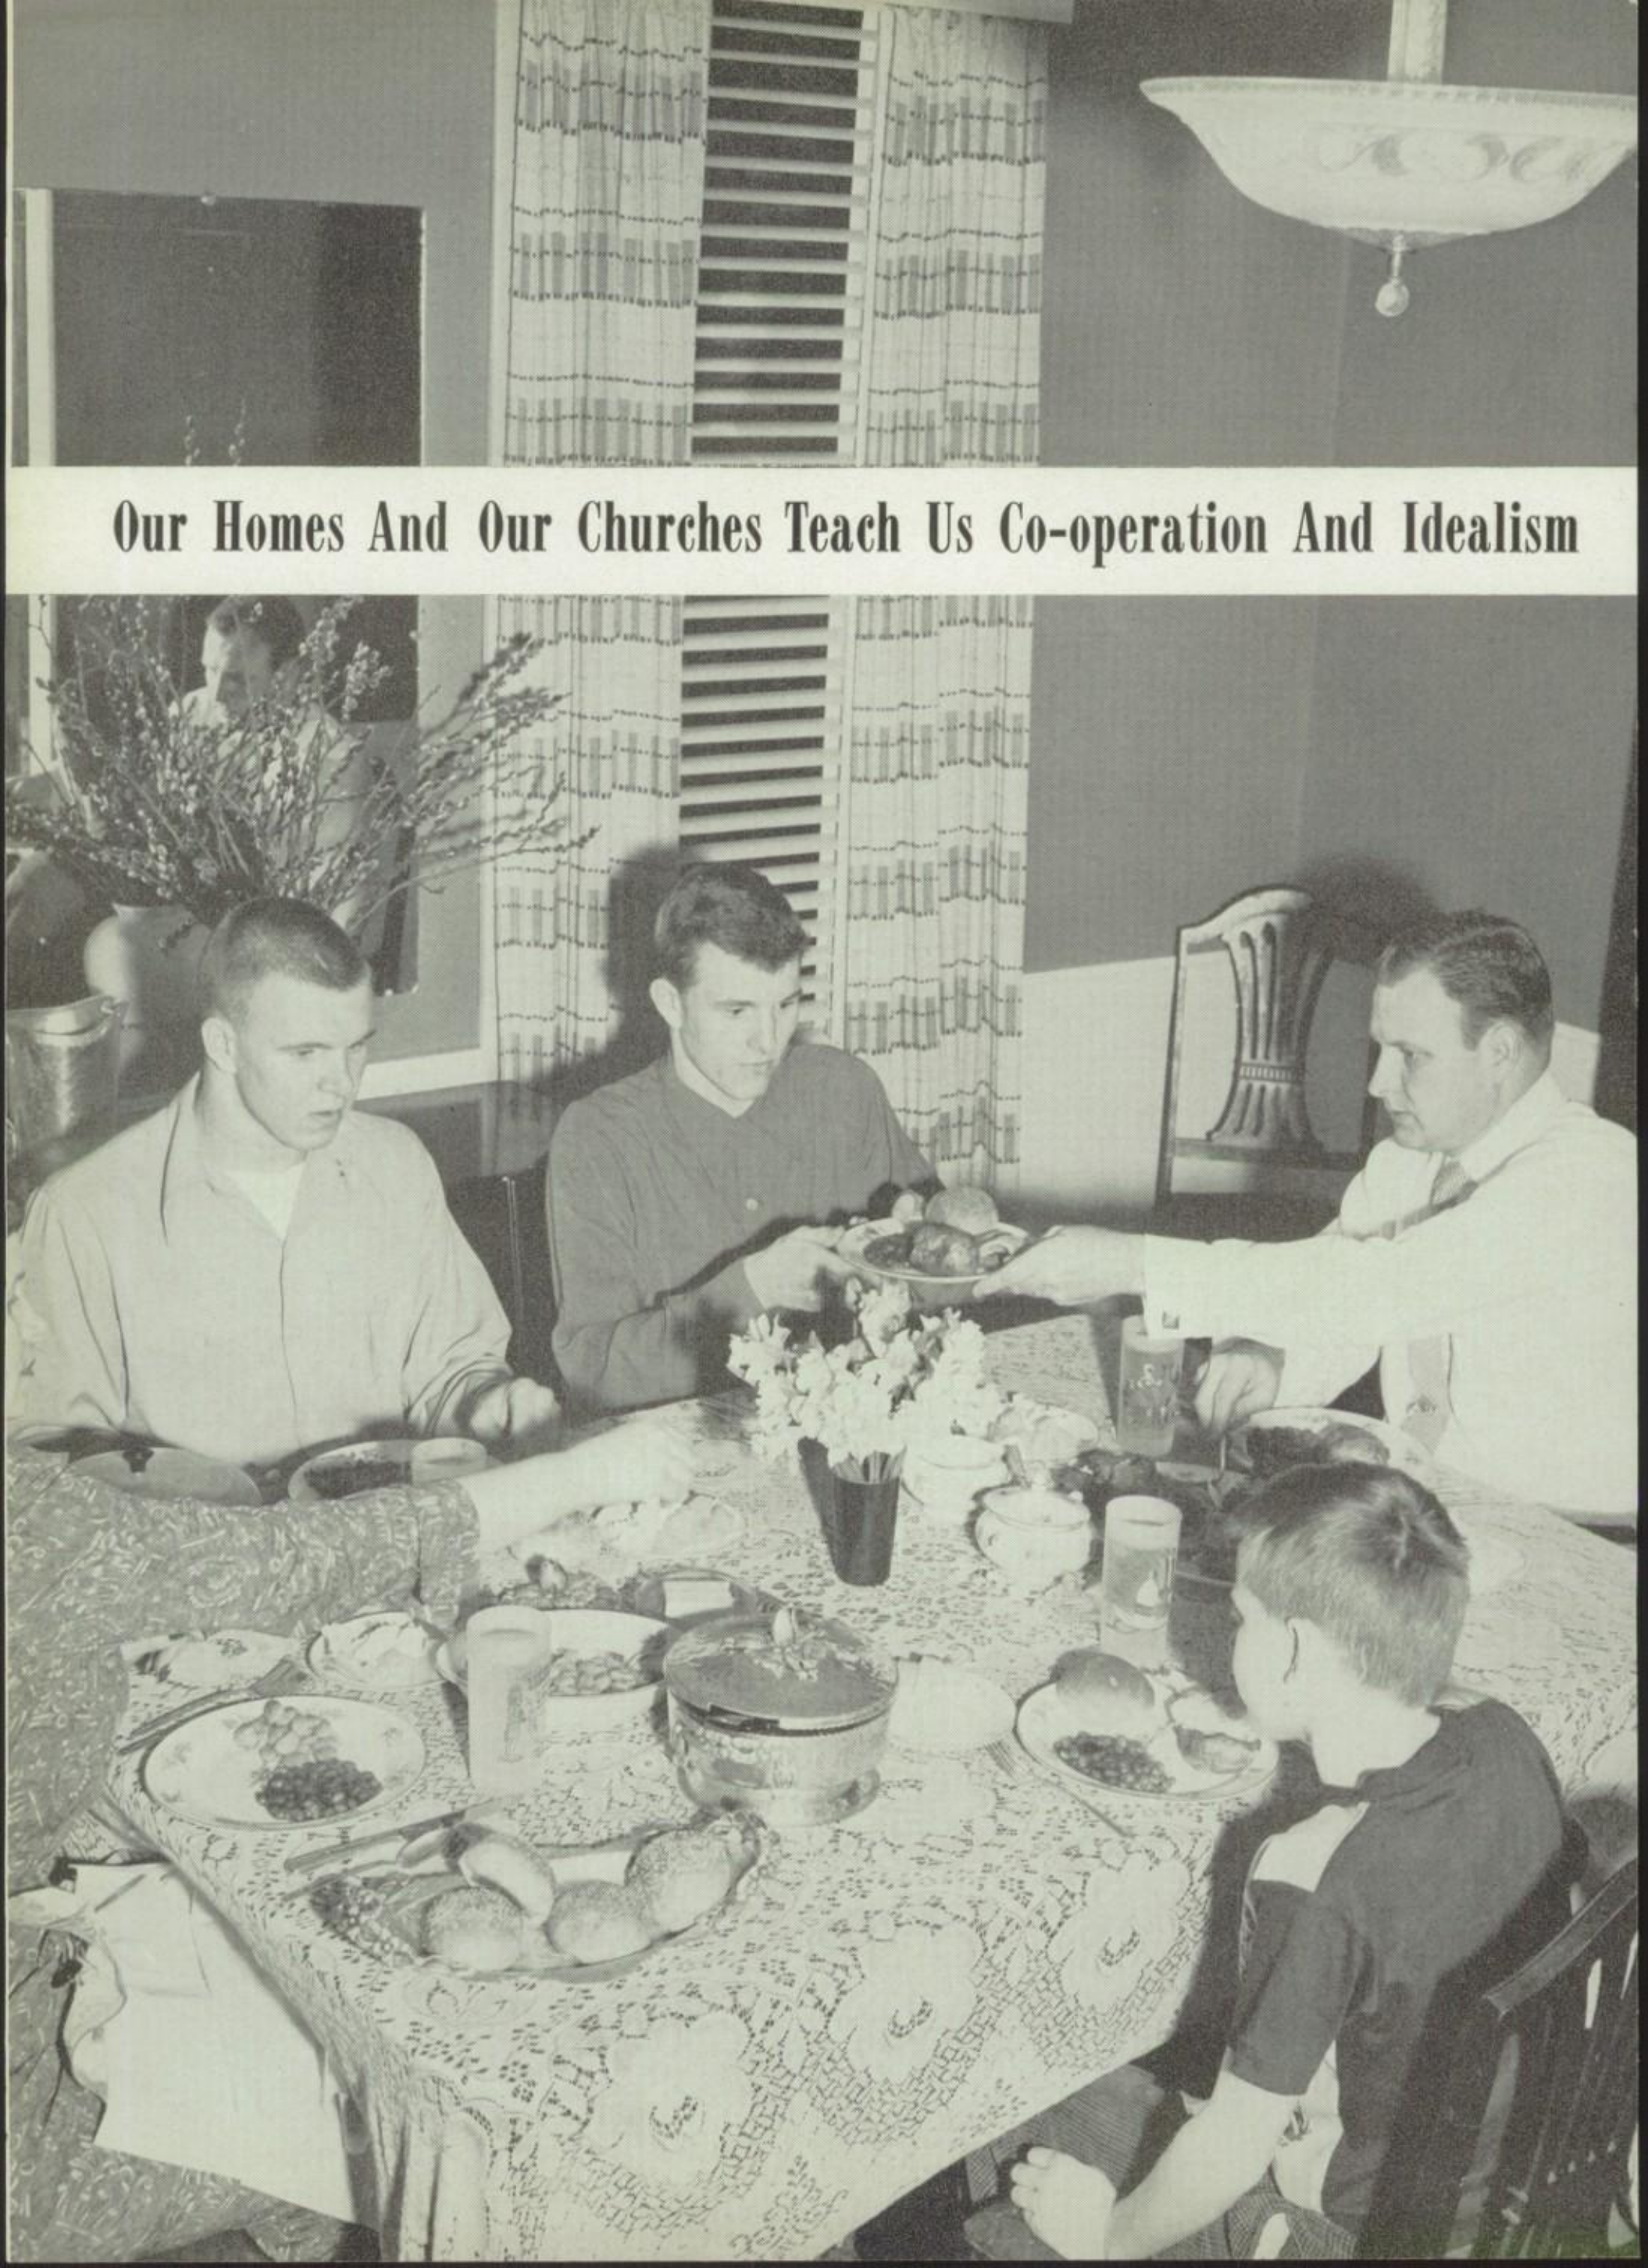
Our Nation



Symbolized by our American flag, our country provides us with a never-ending source of patriotism. We are taught to believe in the rights of free men to govern themselves as they see fitting and proper.

And Our Community Teach Us Patriotism And Industry

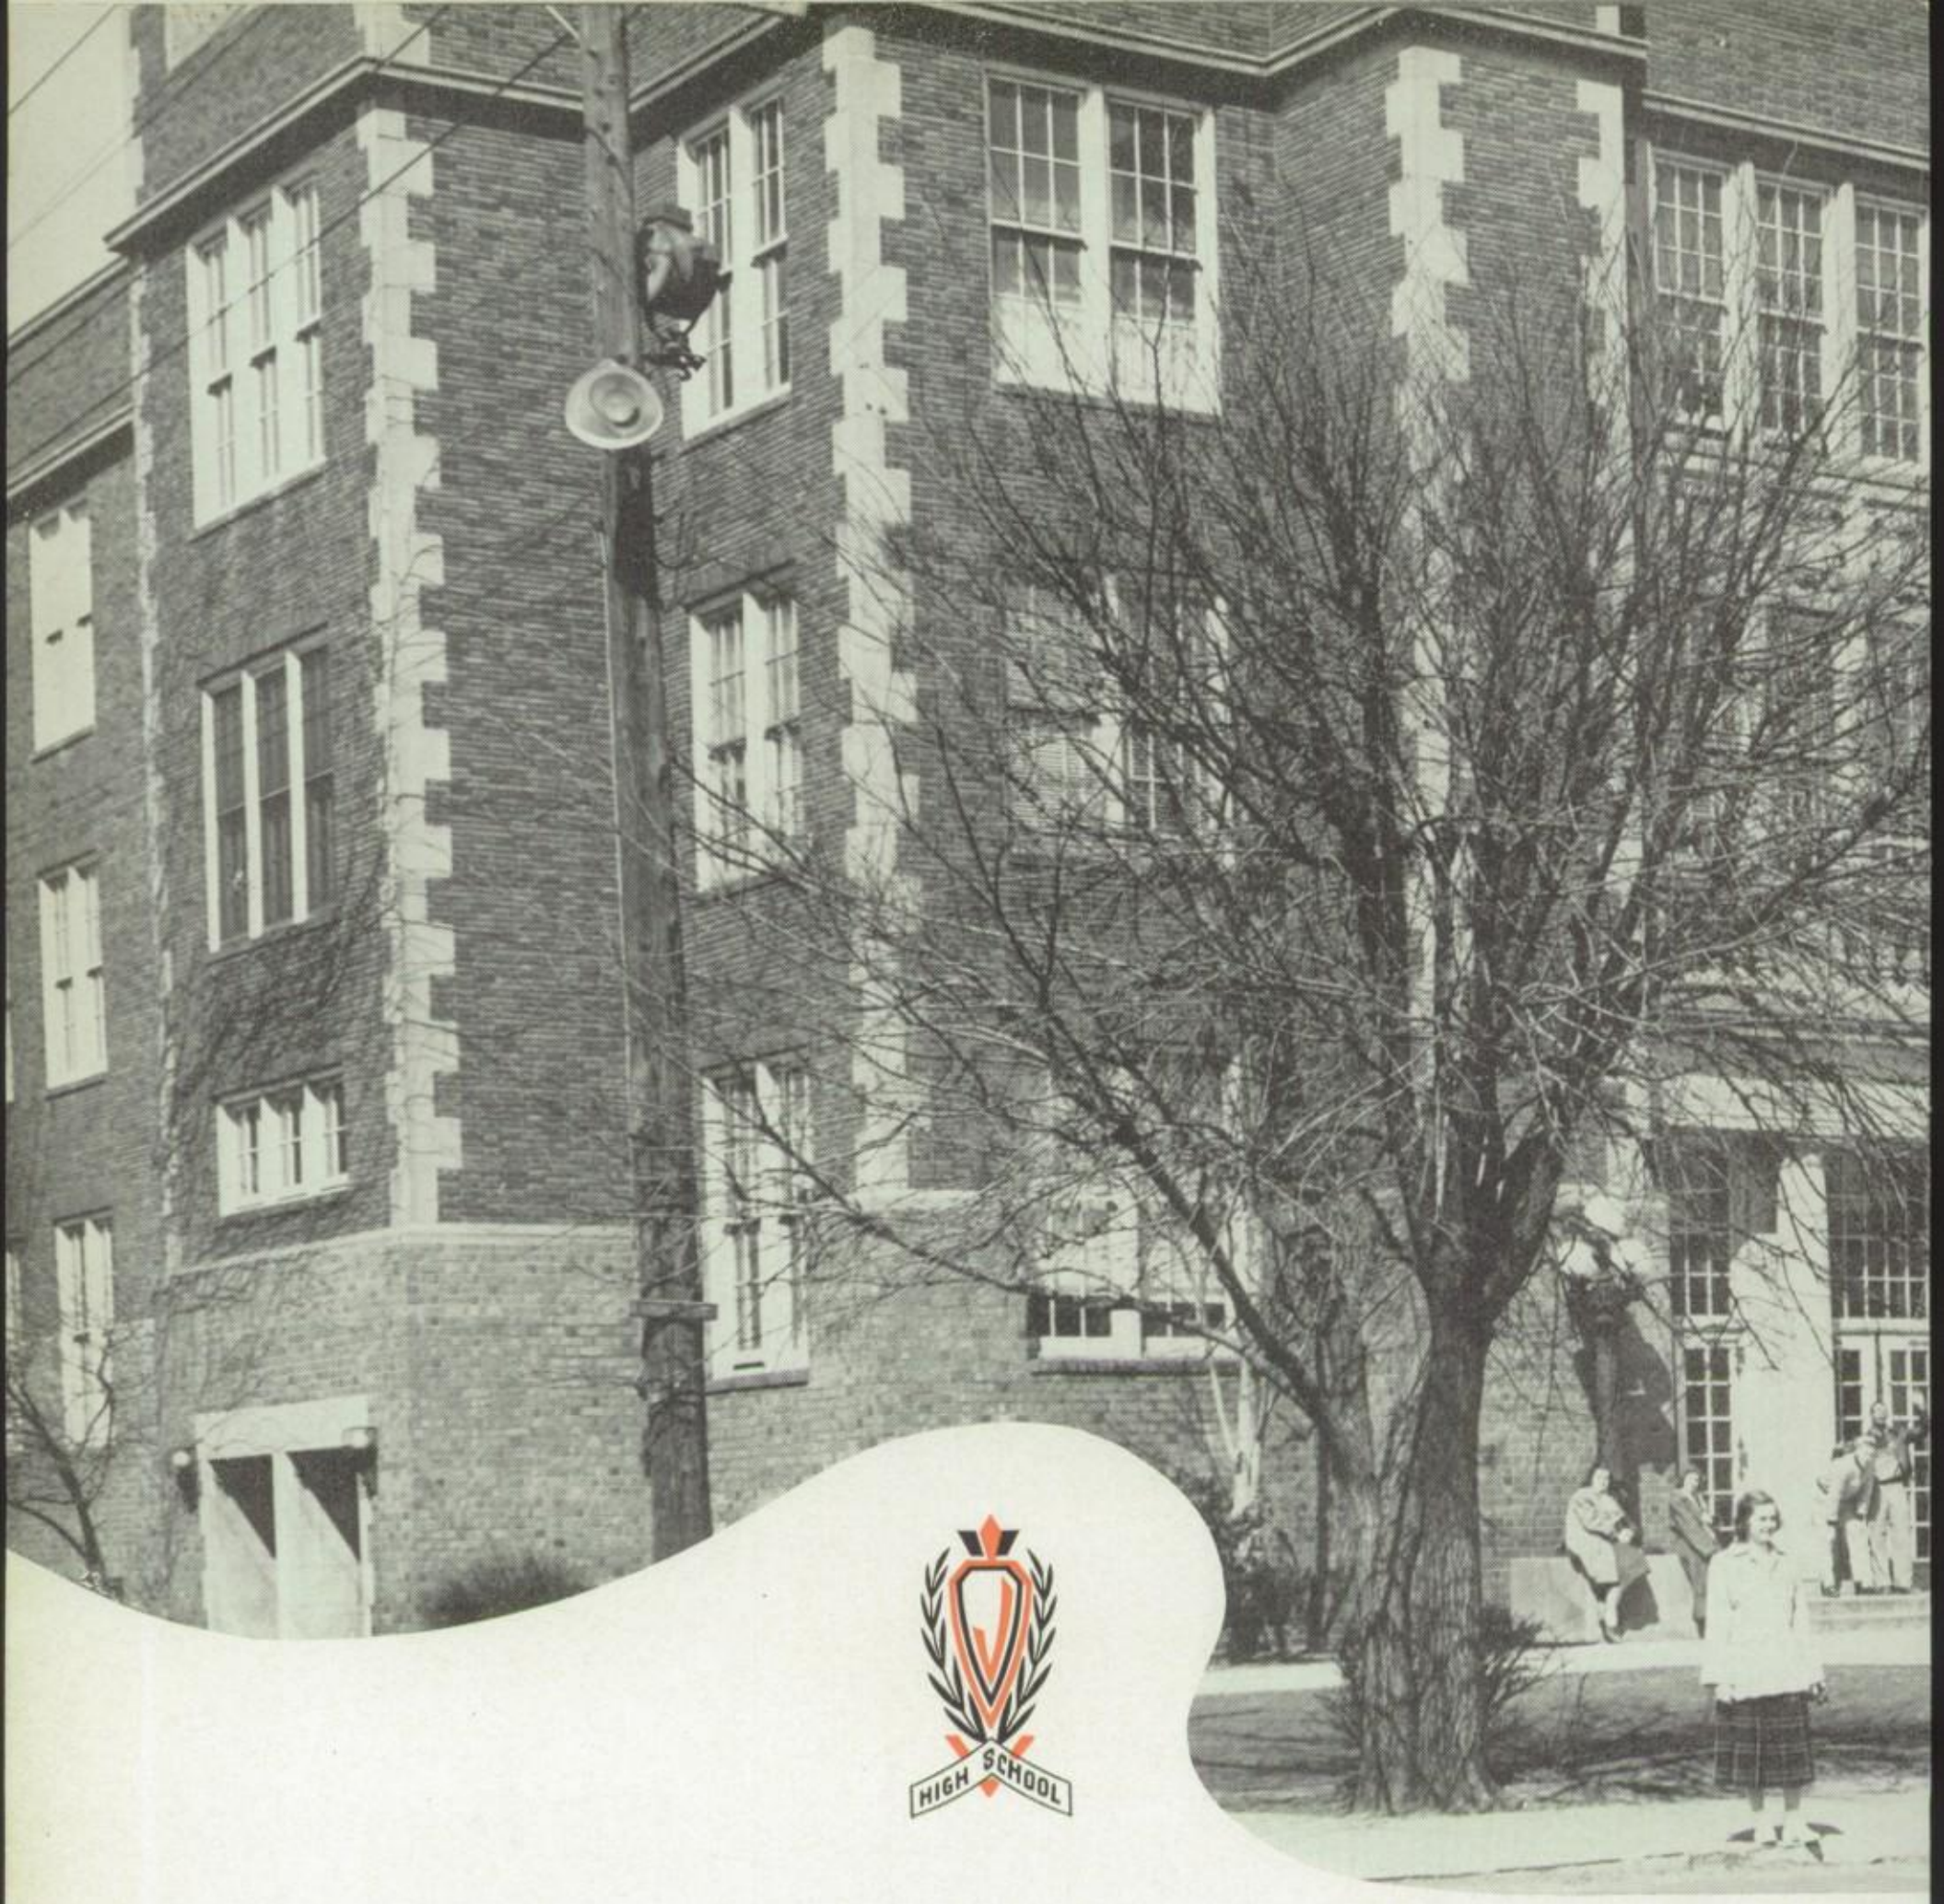
Lafayette, our hometown, is often called "the City of Prosperity". Here, progressive citizens claim that the key to success is "good, hard work". They teach us industry, the prime ingredient of achievement.



Our Homes And Our Churches Teach Us Co-operation And Idealism

Our first steps toward the future are taken at home. During our childhood, our parents lay the foundations of our personalities. Working together as a family unit fosters co-operation and courtesy toward others.

With our families we go to church. Here we acquire the high ideals stressed in the religious faiths of our community. From the day we are christened until the day we pass on to another life, we look to our churches for spiritual guidance.



Our School, Jeff, Points The Way To A

Broad Education

A thorough education for the future doesn't always mean academics alone. At Jeff, we combine the three R's with vocational and cultural classes. Many extra-curricular activities help to encourage the students socially. Since the student spends almost a third of his day at school, it is important that he receive a sound education—and like it. Our choice is Jeff, everyone's favorite.

At Jeff, everyone has friends—friends for years to come. From the casual gathering in the halls, to the all important dates, friendship brings out the best in all of us.

Our Students Point The Way To Friendship

In this book we present the story of Jeff in '52. You will see pictured many of the events that make the year spent here one of the best years of our lives.

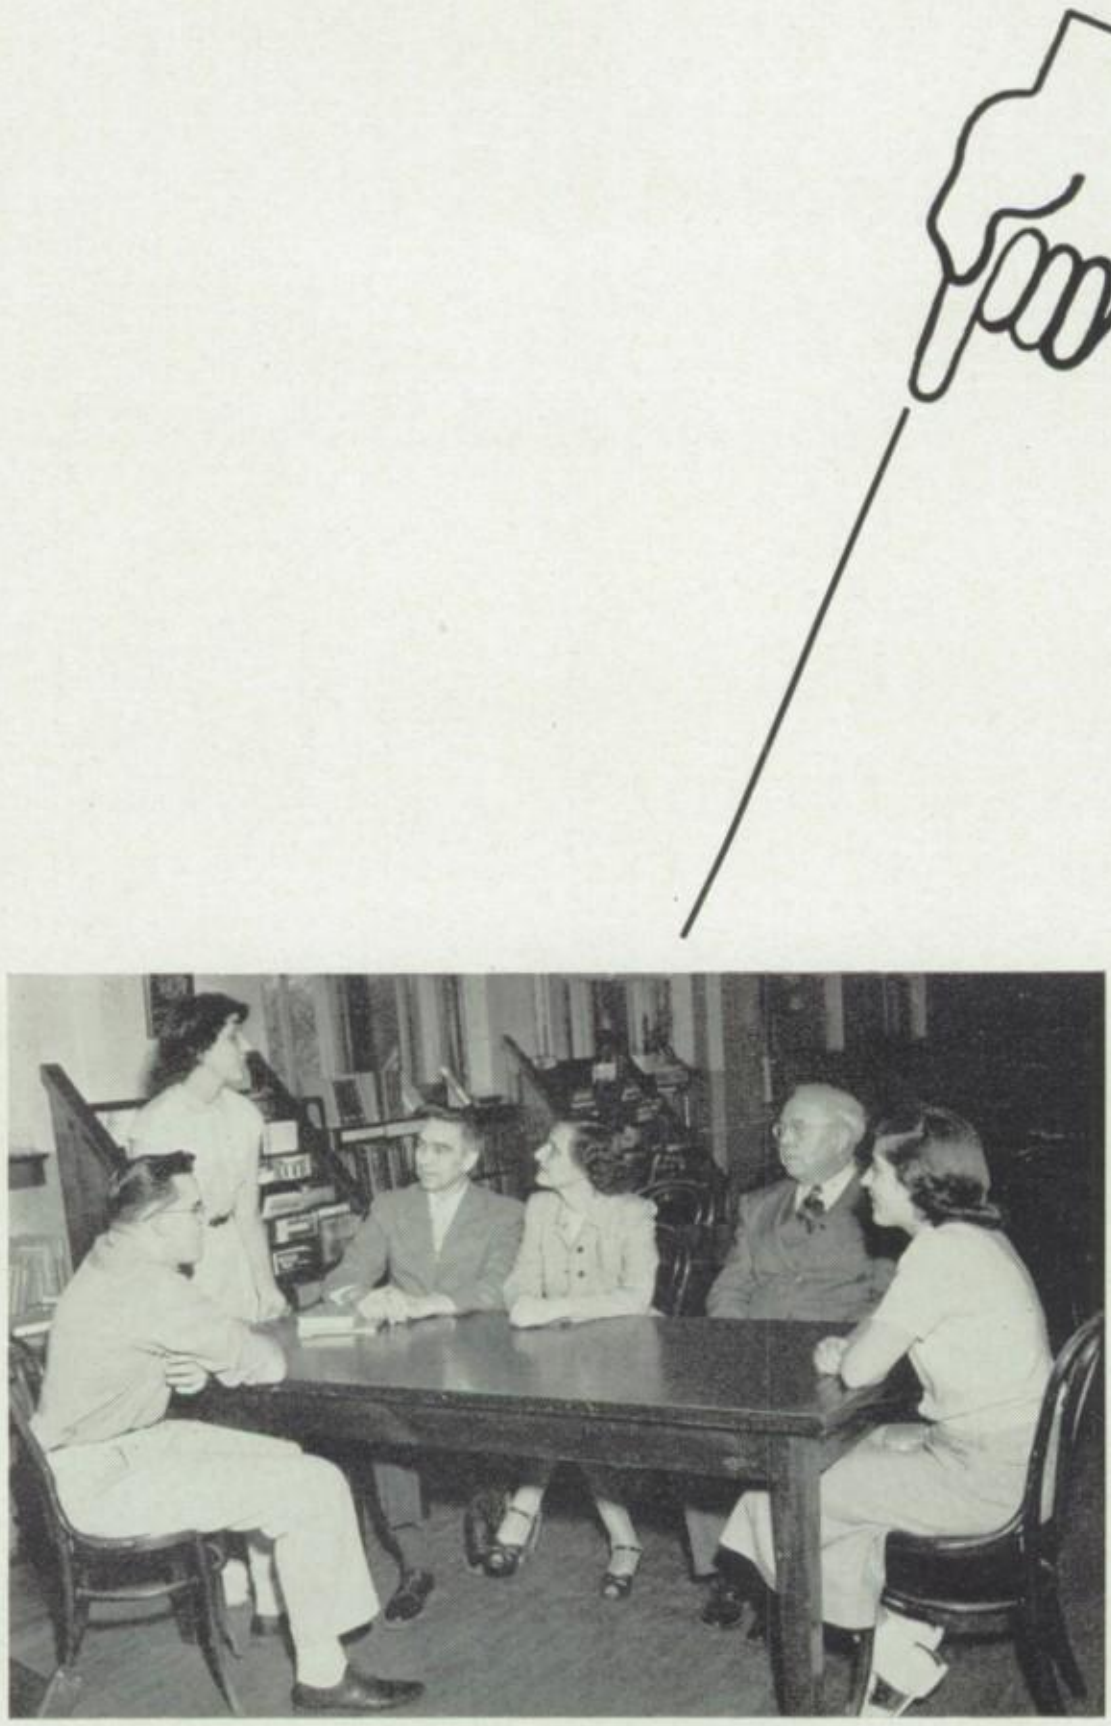
JEFF TEACHERS POINT

THE WAY TO



UNDERSTANDING GUIDANCE

The policy forming organization of Jefferson High School is the Board of School Trustees composed of Harry P. Schultz, President; Harry R. Murphy, Treasurer; and Russell F. Davis, Secretary.

These civic minded men give unselfishly of their time and energy in planning improvements and maintenance of our school, adopting a sufficient budget, securing and keeping a competent faculty, and other constructive work.

Our Vocational Co-ordinator, Mr. Askren, helps many students to bridge the gap between school and occupational work.

Mr. Kashner, the Superintendent of the Physical Plant, supervises the maintenance of our school.

Secretaries

"May I help you?" is the byword of our secretarial staff. Answering telephones, typing bulletins, selling tickets to anything and everything, and sending passes—these are only a few of the secretaries' duties which affect us directly. They also assist our administration by typing up reports, keeping books, taking dictation, and handling school correspondence and files. With all this to fill their day, they still find time to give us any help we need.

Attendance and Nurse

The school nurse directs the health activities in Jefferson High School. Students consult the nurse when ill or in case of accidents.

The attendance officer is the link between the school and the homes of students who are out of school unnecessarily or any length of time.

Counselors

Perhaps no one gives as much help to the individual student as our counselors. They supervise us in planning our schedules, training for occupations, and in other factors which have a direct bearing upon our future.

We take our hats off to Miss Beaver, Miss Slayback, and Mr. Martin for a big job well done.

A BROADER EDUCATION

English

Jeff's English Department is one of the most important as it provides a basis for our education.

This department offers such courses as literature, public speaking, journalism, composition, and grammar.

Literature provides the students with a greater appreciation of poetry and classics as well as other phases of literature handed down through the years.

Grammar gives a better understanding of our own language and a way to use it.

Creative writing, a part of the composition course, teaches students to express themselves in their own words.

Public speaking includes debate, impromptu speaking, parliamentary procedures, and speeches for special occasions. This course offers the opportunity to express oneself orally.

Journalism develops the student's knowledge of newspapers and gives him the experience of putting the school paper together.

Foreign Language Department

You cannot appreciate the value of a foreign language unless you have studied it. From the study of Latin we can learn a great deal about our own language and gain an appreciation of the contribution made by the ancient Romans to modern civilization. Spanish teaches us the ways and customs of our important neighbors to the South. German is the language of the scientist and the engineer. Miss Griffin, Mrs. Cochran, and Miss Fletemeyer give us the foundations of grammar and vocabulary of these languages.

"Ah, Bai, Tzay"

Math

Jeff is indeed fortunate in having a fine mathematics department. For college-bound students, four years of higher math is offered in addition to the general and commercial math courses. We can be justly proud that every student graduating from Jeff has a thorough practical knowledge of the essential of mathematics.

Science

The two-fold purpose of the science department is to help the student to better understand the scientific problems of the world today and to develop future research scientists.

In the science department such subjects as chemistry, physics, biology, and physical science are offered.

Chemistry is a study of compounds, gas, acids, and elements. Physics teaches the laws of nature.

Art

Housing Jeff's future artists is the Jeff Art Department. Students participate in different fields, such as still life, figures, designing, interior decorating, block printing, and sculpturing on a small scale.

The art students have decorated the window between the second and third floors during various holiday seasons. Others have entered poster contests, made greeting cards, and made decorations for convos.

One of our most interesting, as well as entertaining, departments is the Music Department. This is divided into two sections, vocal and instrumental. It is an honor to belong to the A Cappella Choir, the head group in the vocal section. Others are Girls' Glee Club, Choralairs, and the Junior High Choruses. The Senior High Department is directed by Miss

Commercial

Are your figures balanced?

Jefferson High School is extremely lucky to have such a progressive commercial department.

The subjects offered by the commercial department, such as typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, transcription, business law, office practice, marketing, junior business, and salesmanship.

In these classes the student acquires some of the necessary experiences which are needed in the operation of office equipment, such as the ediphone, comptometer and mimeograph.

The commercial department consists of G. R. Bradley, James Ade, Ernest Cortner, Charles Martin, Martha Nash, and Mary Ruth Oakley.

The Home Economics Department headed by Miss Gleela Ratcliffe is one of the most beneficial departments at Jefferson.

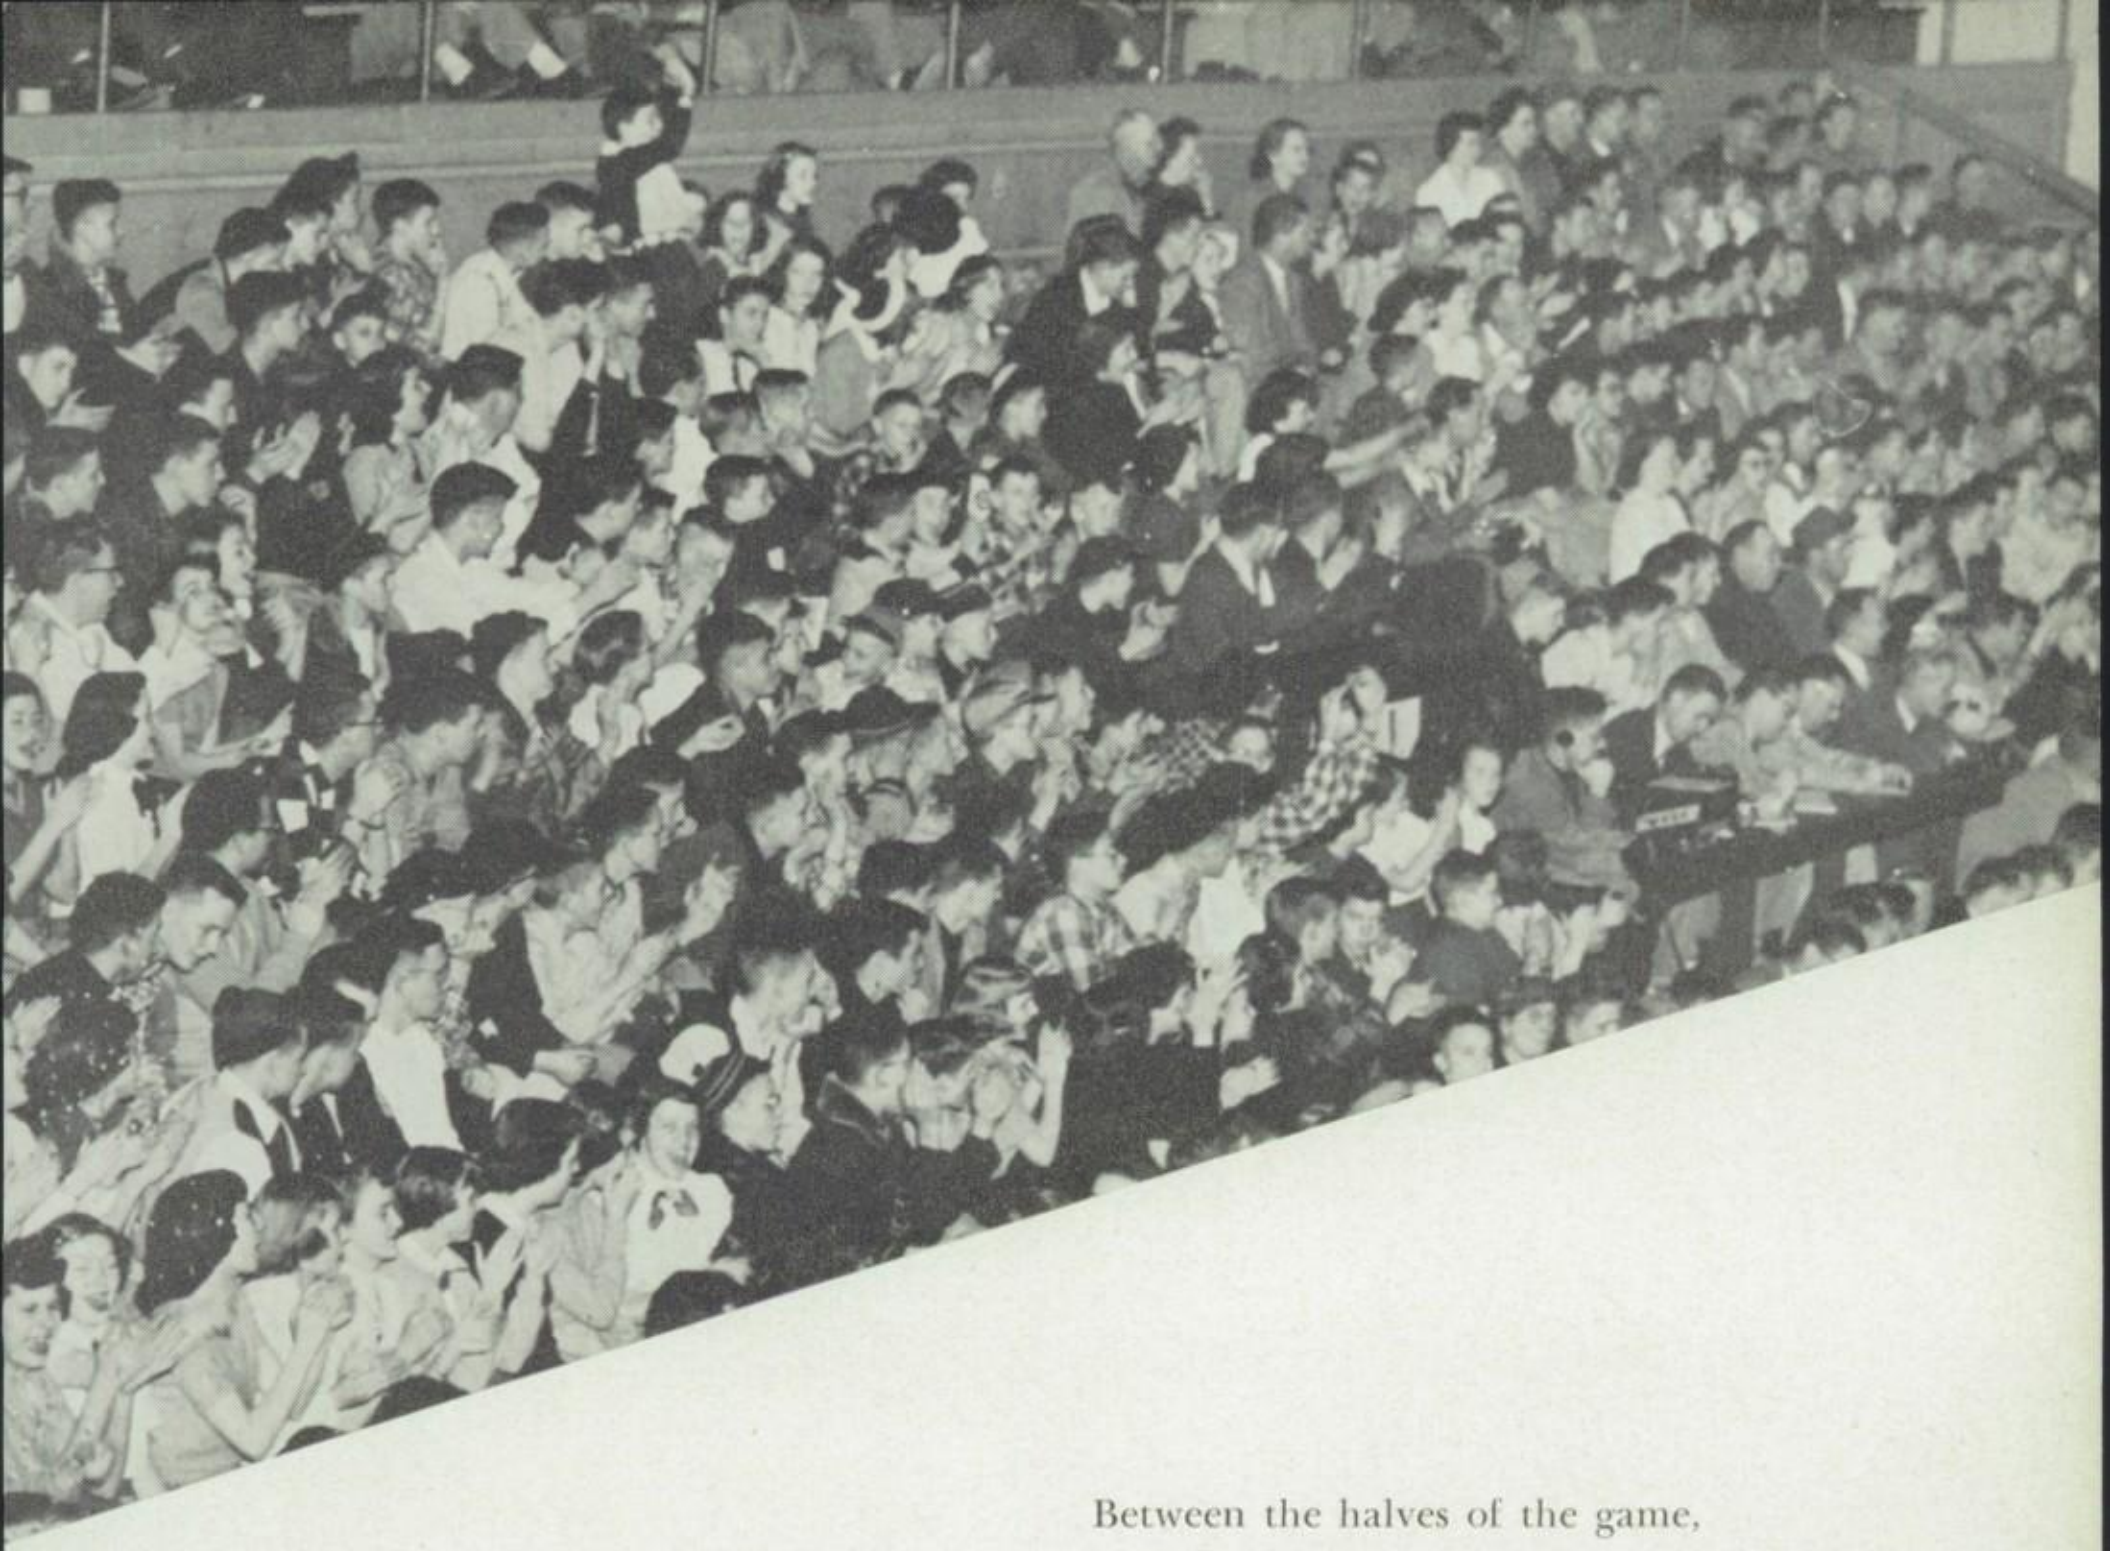
Coach Marion Crawley, undoubtedly one of the best high school coaches in Indiana, has proved again this year his ability to develop winning teams. But in addition to this, his personal interest in the benefits of the athletic program and his high sense of sportsmanship have earned for him the respect of the whole school and community.

The Crowd

Everyone goes to the Jeff games to cheer the Bronchos on to victory. The excitement adds much to high school and community life, and the crowd is very important to team success.



Between the halves of the game, the crowd flocks to the concession stands. Below, the popcorn business seems to be booming.

Coach Marion Crawley, with only one regular returning from last year's North Central Conference champs, faced a big problem in preparing Jeff's inexperienced football forces for their rugged schedule.

In NCC competition, the Broncho gridders won one while losing four, and compiled a complete season record of four wins in ten starts, including a 20-12 victory over winless West Side in the season finale.

Basketball

Three straight years — three consecutive semi-final champions! For the first time since the origin of the semi-final tournament in 1936 had any team made three straight trips to the finals at Indianapolis.

The Bronchos, who lost the entire starting five from the previous year's squad, started off to a rather dismal year, but the month of February found a "jelled" Jeff team that had triumphed in eight of its last nine starts.

The Crawley men quickly tucked away the sectional championship with four wins, and then went on to dump Frankfort and Earl Park in the regionals. In the semi-finals, the Bronchos received their first real scare when they were pressed hard in a 39-37 thriller over a tough Elkhart team. In the night tilt, they quickly disposed of a tired Logansport five, 54-37.

Leading 45-41 in the fourth quarter of the afternoon tussle with Tech of Indianapolis at Butler, Jeff found a lid on the basket and could garner only four points, dropping a heart breaker by seven points.

Right—"Then I says to him . . ."

In three short years the Jeff Block Section has won a wide reputation for its organized cheering and its clever formations, which show a lot of hard work. Co-captains Mary Margaret Doran and Ruby Sautermeister and Mrs. Leffler, faculty sponser, were largely responsible for the success of the Block Section.

Jeff "B" Team

The Broncho "B" team found the going a little rough this year, but they treated the home crowds to quite a few thrillers in the preliminary tilts.

The Colts dropped several close ones but sported wins over such teams as Muncie, West Side, New Castle, Richmond, and others. Coach Sam Lyboult's boys displayed fine sportsmanship and ballplaying throughout the season, finishing with an eight won, twelve lost record.

Wrestling

This year's Broncho grappling team, led by state champions Jim Schrader, heavyweight, and Jim McClatchie, 165 pound division, finished a successful season by copping seven of thirteen dual meets and finishing third in the NCC and sectional meets.

Coach Norm Willey's squad was host to both the sectional and state contests in which they made excellent showings. Jim Schrader was chosen "Most Valuable" while Jim McClatchie was elected captain for the coming season.

SEASON REVIEW

BASEBALL

Jeff always turns up with a strong baseball team, and this year's edition showed promise of running true to form. With six lettermen returning from last year's North Central Conference champs, Coach Sam Lyboult had the foundation of this year's squad. Joe Heath and Jim Sprankle formed the main strength of the pitching staff, with help from some young talent. Jim Cahoon, a veteran slugger, returned to handle the catching duties. Other holdovers were Harold Harris, a hard-hitting outfielder; Kenny Kelly, shortstop, and Don Boveri, first base. With the prospect of some strong help from new talent, this team should continue Jeff's fine baseball reputation.

1ST ROW—D. Stitz, B. Farrell, J. Haley, J. Vaughn.
2ND ROW—G. Lohman, T. Aper, B. Hovde, D. Quealy.

Golf

The nucleus of this year's fairway followers was composed of Boyd Hovde, Don Childers, George Lohman, Tom Aper, Jack Haley, and Dick Quealy.

Although poor weather held spring practices to a minimum, the Bronchos were out on the fairways in early April, getting into the "swing" of things.

Senior Election

The Senior election created much excitement among the seniors here at Jeff.

A machine provided by Fairfield township was used for voting.

The officers elected were: Jim Cahoon, President; Bob Foard, Vice President; Don Masse, Sec'y-Treas.

"And if I am elected . . ."

Congrats, Mr. President!

SENIOR PROM

On May 22nd, Jefferson Gymnasium was the scene of the 1952 Senior Prom. The Prom will long be remembered by those who attended the dance. Music was provided by the band of Ralph Marterie. The seniors worked very hard to make this dance a success and were pleased by the result of their efforts.

Review

On the nights of March 27th and 28th, the class of 1952 presented a three act comedy, entitled "Meet Corliss Archer."

The success of the play was due to the many hard weeks of rehearsing by both casts of players and the expert supervision of Mrs. Jane Ward.

QUEEN OF HEARTS

Coronation

Music by Wendy Schwartz set the tempo for the 1952 Queen of Hearts Dance held at Allen's on February 26. The dance is sponsored annually by the Jeff Hi-Y.

Mary Ann McIntyre was crowned Queen of Hearts by Jim Sprankle, Hi-Y prexy. She was presented a silver necklace and a bouquet of red roses. Her attendants were Winnie Whipple and Dottie Zollinger.

Hi-Y members presented their dates with silver bracelets.

On the night of October 6, 1951, Jeff initiated its dance year by dancing to the music of Wendy Schwartz. Bob Foard was crowned "Gallop King" and reigned over one of the most successful dances of the year.

Girls' Advisory Council

"Sorry he's out on grades"

Many services are rendered to the school and community by the Girls' Advisory Council. This year the G.A.C. maintained a checkroom at basketball games. Members of the club acted as scouts for the office and were assistants in the nurse's office. The club members also assisted in the March of Dimes Polio campaign.

The G.A.C. is under the sponsorship of Miss Irma Slayback. Officers of the club this year were Lois Cassman, President; Mary Ann McIntyre, Vice-President; June Ricks, Treasurer; Jane Sietsma, Secretary.

Forensics

Jeff students speak their minds when they participate in "The Citizens of Tomorrow Speak" broadcast from Stations WASK Lafayette and WBAA Purdue. Topics of current interest were discussed with students from visiting high schools. Mr. V. C. Rogers was faculty advisor for the Jeff broadcasting group.

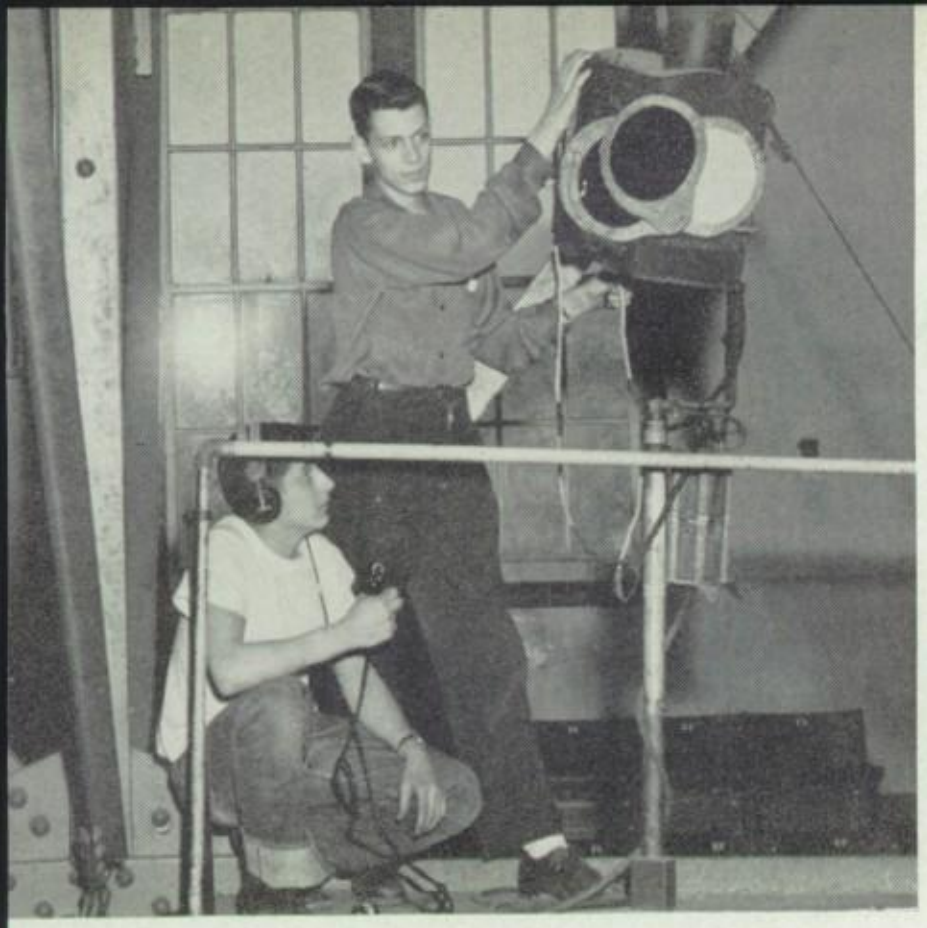
Commercial Club

The Commercial Club held its meetings twice each month and sponsored the Sadie Hawkins dance, mixers, and a trip to Chicago.

K. Andrews, E. Cortner, and Mary Oakley were the club's sponsors.

This year's officers were: M. Rapp, President; M. Buchanan, E. Stichter, Vice Presidents; D. Smith, Secretary; J. Flickinger, Treasurer; M. Costello, Reporter.



Master Machinists

The title of Master Machinists is everything the name implies. The Master Machinists Club is one of the most useful in making its members capable workers in the future. It also helps to develop character and ability to think.

These boys are under the able direction of Mr. H. J. Wills, shop instructor. Officers for the year are as follows: John Gibson, President; John Etter, Vice-President; Richard Metzger, Secretary-Treasurer.

Many and varied are the duties of the boys and girls who assist Mr. L. W. Smith in the school library. They are assigned the jobs of checking books in and out, working in the book depository, and repairing and processing books for the shelves. Along with these duties the library assistants help students in the use of reference books and in general are of great assistance in the school library.

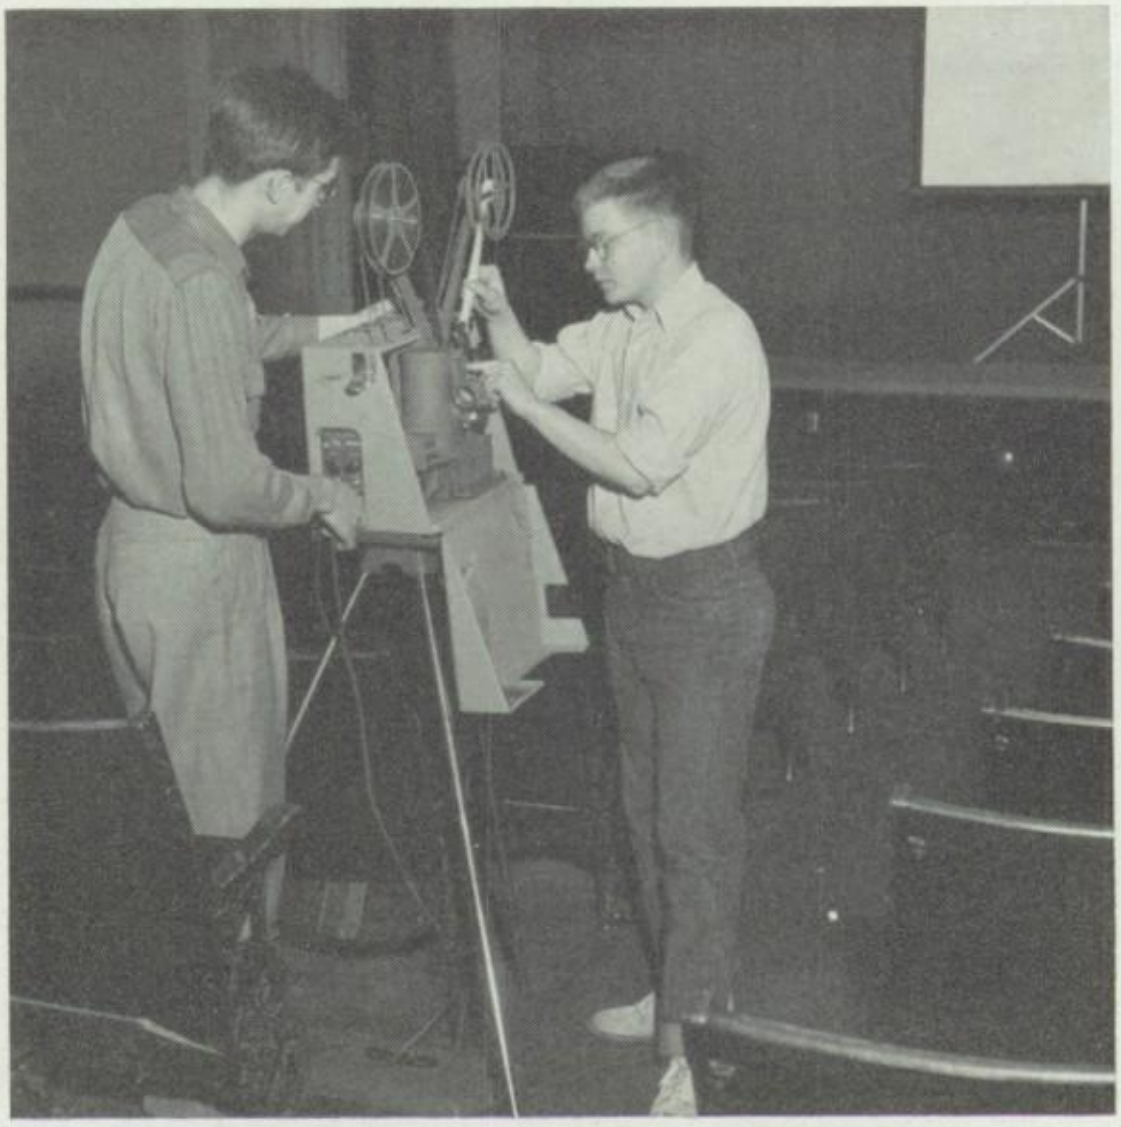
Audio Visual



Now here is the way it is done

Generally, we think of clubs as something for fun and not for service, but those students who belong to the Audio Visual Club have many and varied assignments to do. They run the public address system, operate movie projectors, and the tape and wire recorder.

These students are carefully chosen by their advisor, Mr. L. W. Smith. This club gives the members valuable and helpful experience for the future. The officers this year are: W. Pechin, President; J. Raher, Vice-President; R. McMaster, Secretary-Treasurer.

Standing—M. Watkins, N. Everhart, R. Wood, J. Linville, T. Moran, H. Eckles, R. Schley, E. Tibbetts, W. Pechin, B. Boorom, A. Long.

F. T. A.

Planning to be a teacher? The members of F.T.A., by organizing as the Future Teachers of America, have been able to share their plans and ideas regarding the profession. Guest speakers have added their own experiences to these group discussions. Mr. Short's competent advice has helped many members to gain a better understanding of a teaching career. To highlight the club's activities, a Christmas party was given in the home of one of the members.

A Cappella Choir

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Miss Camilla White, is the pride of Jeff's vocal music department. It is an honor to be selected to sing with the Choir. The Choir has always been very popular in Jeff and throughout the community. In addition to the Christmas Convo and the annual concert with the band, a high event in the Choir calendar is the annual Choral Festival, held this year at Lebanon.

The Choir is accompanied by Nancy Sites and Ruth Hoover. Lois Cassman, Ralph Guenther, Patty O'Brien, and John Crowden assist Miss White as section leaders.

WE GO

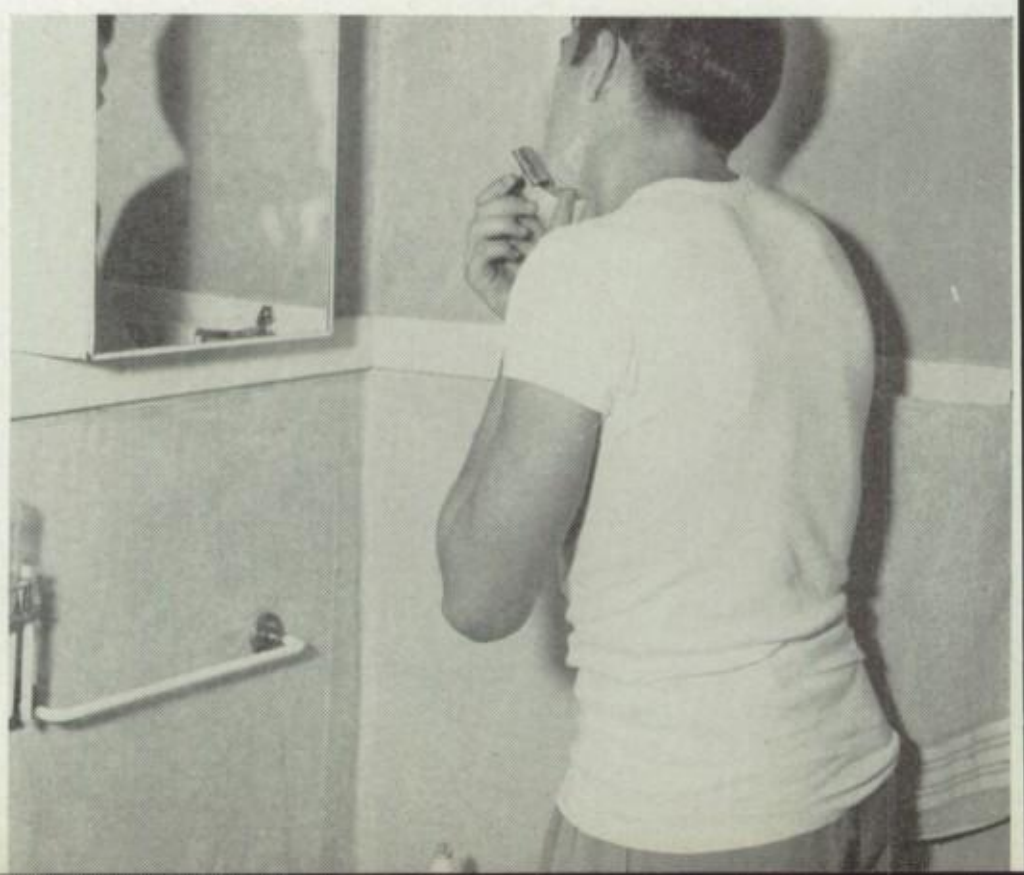
To highlight the school activities, Organizations sponsor dances. Formal and informal, they create a flurry of excitement as girls shop for formals

Up there in the left corner we find Bill as he has popped the question. Just now Jackie and Bill are wearing their "going-steady" Thermo-Jacs which they bought at Loeb's.

Well, I guess she accepted, because there's Bill buying a ticket for the dance from Bob Branigin. That sharp looking outfit of Bob's, from the suede and gabardine jacket to the Senior cords, was purchased at Steck's.

After long hours of shopping Jackie found the answer to her fondest prayer in this stunning ballerina formal of lemon dotted swiss. You, too, can find the answer to your dreams among the lovely gowns at Jacques.

At last! The big day arrives! Careful Bill! You'll slice yourself if you don't settle down. And you know you've been told a million times not to use your dad's Seaforth. Don't forget to buy your own at Schnaible's Drug Store tomorrow.



TO DANCES

and boys pester Dad for the family car. Let's follow Jackie Cornelius and Bill Hughes, a popular two-some at Jeff as they make their plans for the big night.

Oohh! Get an eyeful of that bee-u-ti-ful orchid! Not just any orchid, but an orchid from Clark's Florists. Jackie, you're the luckiest girl in the world!

And there they go . . . off to the ball in the latest of "Coach and four's". Luscombe's sleek Mercury sedan is sure to catch every eye. Ask any of the boys; they'll tell you there's nothing as smooth rolling as this classy chassis.

Dreamy music, soft lights, long skirts, all these make a dance, but don't forget the gents make up fifty per cent of the fun. Good grooming is a must for boys on dance nights. For the approval of your "lady fair" we recommend Baltimore's suits — nothing could be finer.

After the dance Jackie and Bill follow the gang to Bert's Drive-in on the Brown Street Levee. Mmm . . . I can see why. Let's go over for a coke sometime, hm?

Wasn't it wonderful? Jeff dances are really tops on anyone's entertainment list. Just ask Jackie and Bill.

The Nautilus

One of the final events of each school year is the distribution of the school yearbook. The written record of your school, your sports, your clubs, and your activities – the Jeff NAUTILUS. Into it has been crammed all the pictures that represent the student's life at Jeff.

Working hard all the way was our Editor, Emily Byers. An example of her work is the humorous cartoons which may be found throughout the book. She was assisted by Georgelma DeVault, Assistant Editor, who helped organize the new photo ads.

The Senior, underclassmen, and all other pictures were directed by the Photo Editor, Joanne Jones and her assistant, Jane Davis.

The sport's department was ably handled by Bob Branigin and Bob DeLong. They had to make many trips to the field and cover all sport's events.

Staff

Janet Cripe was in charge of the copy. This meant the identification of group pictures, captions, and stories of explanation. She was assisted by Max Underhill, Joe Bumbleburg, and Sandy Masters.

Subscriptions were handled by Steve Scheffee and Joyce Bogardus. They also kept all records of receipts and payments.

The huge job of typing copy fell to our efficient Secretary, Sally Owens.

The advertising was under the direction of Jack Whiteaker and the advertising staff, Sam Mullens, Dave Blackwell, Perry Mayhew.

The tremendous responsibility of guiding and aiding the staff fell to Mr. Ade, the NAUTILUS Advisor. Mr. Morgan was the advisor to the advertising staff.

We wish to express our deep thanks and gratitude to all those who helped us throughout the year. And it is our sincere hope that you will enjoy this book as much as we, the staff have enjoyed preparing it for you.
